“As an Academic Partner of ASIL, our students, staff and faculty have access to cutting-edge international law programming, both on-line and in-person, for free or at reduced rates. UB students and staff benefit from career resources like the ASIL Job Board and ASIL staff trainings for our Career Development office and for students on how to launch a career involving international law. ASIL partnership has created real learning and engagement opportunities for our students and broader community.

- NIENKE GROSSMAN, Professor and Co-Director of the Center for International and Comparative Law, University of Baltimore School of Law
